PRASTUTHI

PRASTUTHI was a one day student paper presentation event held on 07th January 2023. In today's booming economy, presentation skills are requisite in every professional arena. Aim of the event was to unveil the 3 P's of the presenter (prepare, practice and present) while improving time- management and creativeness through competition. And to provide a platform to express the views regarding a particular topic and communicate with full of attention to impact better speaker. The event was organized by Department of Electronics and Instrumentation Engineering in collaboration with MERIISE.
